Spain France

Looking upon our schools as a nucleus from which continuing educational growth emanates, the Beverly Hills High School teaching staff and students anticipate the summer months as a time for enrichment activity. Travel and study throughout the world has become an integral part of the learning process.

Combined French and Spanish Travelers

A basic portion of Beverly Hills educational philosophy is the belief that a student enlightened by liberal learning must be aware of the revolutionary changes in the world during this century and must clearly perceive the major forces at work both at home and abroad. In classrooms and laboratories at the high school, students are exposed to both practical and theoretical applications of these ideas. Continuously expanding backgrounds and incentives for the development of knowledge are provided through an alert, active Board of Education.

Each year under the auspices of the Institute of European Studies, groups of Beverly Hills students spend six weeks in the major centers of learning in Europe. During the summer of 1966 Mr. Victor Seine and Mrs. Simone Laidig of our Foreign Language Department took students to Madrid, Spain and Nantes, France where they lived with local families while studying. Both groups spent the remaining vacation weeks traveling to England, Germany, Italy, and Switzerland.

Some of the students travelled in small groups. They wanted to see the world from a different point of view. Seniors Jon Slutsky and Tom Gaines toured Europe by bicycle, staying at youth hostels in small villages and taking their travels at a slow pace.

England

Westminster Abbey, main hall

Beverly students saw all phases of England. Whether by pedal or plane, most of them visited Canterbury Cathedral. Jon Slutsky photographed the exterior view here. Junior Ira Moskatel took the picture of the main sanctuary of Westminster Abbey in London, sight of many controversies in English history.

Seeing an entirely different view of the British Isles, Senior Jeff Seltzer included in his itinerary a visit to Stonehenge. This remarkable construction was built prior to 1500 B.C. by an ancient civilization apparently seeking to explain some of the mysteries of astronomy.

Mediterranean Countries

For centuries, education was based mainly on studies of the classical cultures. Even with the modern emphasis on science and progressive education, the study of the Greek and Roman cultures is an essential part of today's curriculum.

Canal at Venice, Italy

Almost all Beverly travelers spent time in Italy. In Venice a gondola ride along the canals contrasted with such historic sights as beautiful St. Mark's Cathedral which stands as a monument to the mixing of Islamic and Christian cultures.

In Rome, Melody Cornell, Sue Davidson, and Connie Kamahale found themselves entranced with the architectural beauty and engineering of the Forum, a sturdy reminder of the Roman Empire's legacy to civilization.

Those travelers to the Near East enjoyed Greece, both modern and ancient. Junior Jon Davis lived there with his family for almost a year. In Athens, the caryatids, supports for the Temple of Athena, stand north of the Parthenon on the Acropolis, which, illuminated at night, is a breathtaking reminder of the Age of Pericles.

The basis of the three major religions of the western world is centered in the countries of the Near East. Beginning with the Jewish traditions and later the history of Christianity, Israel has played an important part in the shaping of western life.

Jeff Seltzer and his family toured Egypt, Greece, Israel, and Jordan, concentrating on the ancient civilizations which formed the basis of western history.

Great Temple at Karnak, Egypt

The ancient Egyptians left us great architectural remains. Jeff Seltzer took the picture of a mural carved and painted on the wall of the tomb of a Pharaoh. Near Luxor he photographed the handsome ruins of ancient temple pillars of Karnak, and in Istanbul he found the lovely mosque silhouetted against the sky.

Far East

Guided by the government agency "In Tourist," Senior Mike Schneiderman and his family travelled in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics spending the majority of their time in Moscow and Leningrad. St. Basil's Cathedral lies in Red Square next to the cold, high walls of the Kremlin, policy seat of the USSR.

All the produce trade in the southeast Asian city of Bangkok takes place on the many canals that run through the heart of the business district. Families may live their lives within the confines of a narrow canal. The handsome carved demon is guarding the Buddhist Temple of Dawn built at Bangkok three hundred years ago. It commemorates a battle of the Thai against Mongolian invaders. Ira Moskatel took these pictures while in the Far East.

Many teachers spent their vacation time studying and traveling. Mrs. Marjorie Viau of Beverly's Art Department toured French Polynesia in the South Pacific. She lived with the people there and visited many of the small islands in the Archipelago. She was enchanted by the people, their customs, and particularly by the school children in primitive Western Samoa.

Tahiti and its surrounding Society Islands have played an important part in the history of Far Eastern trade. Lying within the Humboldt Current, Tahiti is a tremendous shipping thoroughfare. The cultures on the outer islands remain largely unaffected by the path of civilization. Only within the last year archeological surveys have been in steady progress. Artifacts have appeared from civilizations of which the world has, until now, been totally unaware. It is thought that perhaps all the islands were at one time linked.

Approximately every other year at Easter time, Mr. Robert Holmes of the Music Department takes his Madrigal Singers to Hawaii where they do a concert tour. The Honolulu students visit Beverly in return. A very close relationship has developed between the students of each state.

North America

Beverly Hills students and faculty agree that travel augments educational opportunities by creating broadness of mind and understanding between peoples of the earth. Close association with Beverly Hills' sister city began this year when our school district hosted dignitaries from Acapulco, Mexico.

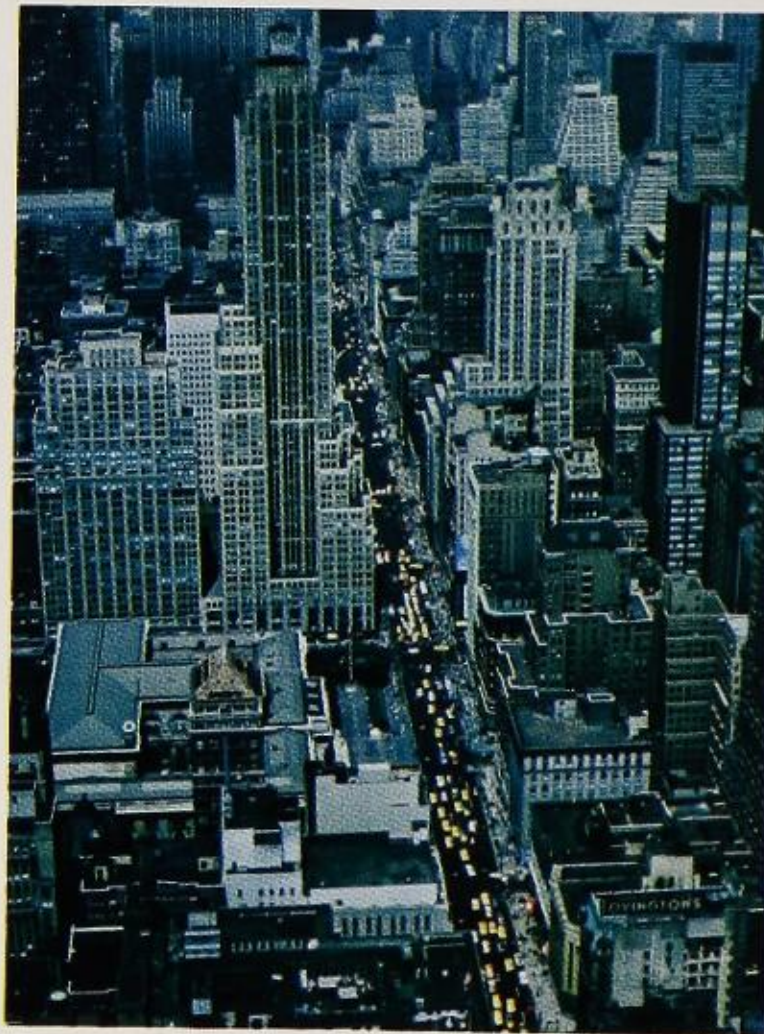

Sister city meeting

This summer, students from Acapulco and Beverly Hills studied here together for the first time. Also there was an exchange of student art work. At the same time, Acapulco dignitaries visited Beverly. At left are: Dr. F. W. Robinson; Mr. Neo Gutierrez; Mr. Jose Medina, Department head of Rural Education; Mrs. Elinor Nathan; and Professor Ramirez Altamirano, Acapulco Director of Education.

Three of our faculty members are spending the entire year away from us. Mrs. Pearl Baum of our English Department is using up the longest ticket ever assembled. She is touring the world while on sabbatical leave. Physics and general science teacher, Mr. Francis Crean, is spending this year studying under a fellowship at Cornell University. A year studying in Europe will complete a Masters Degree for physical education teacher, Marianne Strandwall.

Nate Silverman's fascinating view of New York City must represent the memories of many student and faculty travellers to the great cities, towns, and natural monuments of our own country.

If the concept underlying this book can be stated in a word, the most likely choice would be growth. Because of its sense of continuousness and radiation, we have chosen the circle as the visual symbol of this concept. Awareness of the continuity of yesterdays and tomorrows is a province of our institution.

Yesterday Tomorrow

In 1927, beloved Beverly science teacher "Doc" Morrison took the picture below of our school in its beginning. At the left is a view, which after this year, will never be seen again. Each of these forty years has been filled with very special kinds of growth; of physical facility, of teaching vision, and of young men and women moving up and out into an expanding world.

One symbol of Beverly's own motion into the future is the architect's rendition at left. Sometime during 1967-68 the look of our campus will change.

Superintendent Mr. Kenneth L. Peters

Due to recent swift increases of population in Beverly Hills, the 1966-67 school year has required intense concentration upon the enlargement of physical facilities, administrative and teaching staffs. Under the leadership of Superintendent Kenneth L. Peters, the year has been dedicated to the guidance of this growth into the same channels of excellence which have created the vibrant educational climate Beverly Hills now enjoys.

Every member of the Beverly Hills district staff has had an intimate part in the refinement of plans. Implementation of the growth concept has moved steadily forward until, in early 1967, the clearing and breaking of ground became a reality.

The devoted attention of an outstanding Board of Education has made it possible for Beverly Hills students and parents to continue looking forward with confidence to a system of education second to no other in the country.

Dr. F. Willard Robinson

Principal Dr. F. Willard Robinson

For Principal Dr. F. Willard Robinson, the 1966-67 year has been filled with much more than the challenges which ordinarily face an administrator. In addition to the assembly of an increasingly enlarging teaching staff, Dr. Robinson has led the high school through a year of delicately conceived re-organization of administrative leadership. Three assistant principals and seven members of the counseling staff have imparted a tremendous vitality to students and instructors alike.

Recognition of today's requirement to prepare the student as totally as possible for a life enriched by wide awareness, Dr. Robinson, through the creation of a Fine Arts department, has initiated a phase of secondary education which will move side by side with the already existing excellence of departments of Science, Mathematics, Foreign Language, English, Social Studies, Business Education, Technical Arts, and Physical Education.

Growth and refinement in the areas of team teaching, modern foreign language methods, advanced placement programs and a pilot project on the levels of achievement approach to the teaching of algebra continued to flourish with gratifying scholastic results.

At the same time, much enlarged and beautifully equipped physical facilities for the high school moved from the drawing boards into actuality. The most modern in design of classrooms and laboratories, library, seminar rooms, information retrieval, closed circuit television, theatre, and fine and graphic arts is included in the new five story building with underground parking which began construction this year. Certain areas of the existing high school structure have been redesigned and will be ready for occupancy some time during the next two years.

To have so guided our extended growth while having assisted us to maintain the combined excellence of creative and academic expression brings to a close a year of unprecedented activity.

The Assistant Principals

Mrs. Ruth N. Friedman, Assistant Principal, is in charge of student activities at Beverly Hills High School. The organization and function of the Boys' and Girls' Leagues is sponsored by Mrs. Friedman. Approximately forty clubs, all extremely active, flourish under her helpful guidance, and a wide assortment of philanthropic and community activities look to Mrs. Friedman for her wise assistance.

Mr. Lawrence D. Lynch is Assistant Principal in charge of instruction. Well remembered in his former roles of chemistry instructor and counselor, Mr. Lynch now deals with students' classes, programs and grading. Scholastic testing programs and increased use of our data processing facilities also fall within Mr. Lynch's busy schedule. All who come in contact with him have experienced Mr. Lynch's extraordinary ability to find ample time to dwell with interest on each individual's problem.

Mr. Steve Miletich is Beverly's Assistant Principal in charge of pupil personnel. Attendance and deportment are two of the large categories over which Mr. Miletich watches. It is quite an accomplishment to be a much loved disciplinarian. Steve Miletich has become this very thing to Beverly students. It is an achievement which can only be earned. No function from an assembly to a football game is complete without the Miletich smile.

PTA

President Mrs. Marvin Friedman heads a truly active PTA.

The BHHS PTA deems it a responsibility to understand, to clearly interpret, and to help achieve the school's general objectives. Acting as a liaison between home and school, it is our desire to foster the fullest possible understanding between educators and parents in hopes that the youth within our influence may achieve its highest potential. It is our sincere belief that no high school, no matter how excellent, can singlehandedly prepare young people for all of today's challenges—that administrators need and justly deserve, the understanding and support of the parents in the task of providing a meaningful education.

Officers working under Mrs. Marvin Friedman's leadership were 1st vice-president, Mrs. Ramon Gerson; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Harold Karton; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Marvin Cole; 4th vice-president, Mrs. Jules Lapidus; 5th vice-president, Mrs. David Bisno; Recording secretary, Mrs. Henry Grossman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Phillip Klein; treasurer, Mrs. Alvin Grossblatt; historian, Mrs. Ted Post and parliamentarian, Mrs. Julian Isen.

A unique success: the man-computer team

"The computer concert culminates a unique series of lectures and a field trip conducted last spring in cooperation with the Computer Group of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. As far as we know, this is the first time such a series has ever been presented on any campus in the United States. From an educational point of view, we feel that the series has been extremely successful, opening up new insights for our students. It is an excellent example, once again, of what can be accomplished when industry and education join forces."

Mathematics teacher, Paul Michalisco, who coordinated the program, co-sponsored by Math Club and Mesons, states, "The main purpose of this series, The Man-Computer Team, has been to present the role of the computer as a tool in the service of mankind . . . a tool that will free man from the drudgery of tedious computation and routine decision making in order to enable him to more fully enjoy and to develop those facilities of the mind and heart that make us human."

Technical Arts

Donald Walker, Head

Technical Arts is that part of general education dealing with the technological advances of our industrial society. It endeavors to provide an opportunity for exploration and self-discovery, thus creating a more meaningful background for a wise choice of higher education courses, the development of interest and understanding of problems in the technical and industrial world, and the distinguishing of values and craftsmanship by the student as a consumer.

Fine Arts

Rex Faubion, Head

The Fine Arts Department is comprised of courses in the visual arts, drama, and music. These courses are designed to develop in the student an awareness and understanding of the fine arts, to equip the student with basic skills in any of the areas in which he chooses to specialize, and to foster in the student artistic sensitivity and creativity. The grouping of these courses into one department emphasizes the interrelationships of the arts and coordinates all fine arts activities on the campus.

Social Studies

William Quandt, Head

36 Students in the Social Studies Department are encouraged to achieve a broad understanding of the development of our institutions and social environment. Through discussion of contemporary issues and study in depth of historical background, students develop attitudes of critical and impartial judgment, tolerance, and openmindedness. A deep and abiding appreciation for the democratic process is emphasized. The controlling purpose throughout the department is to develop the ability to think.

Business Education

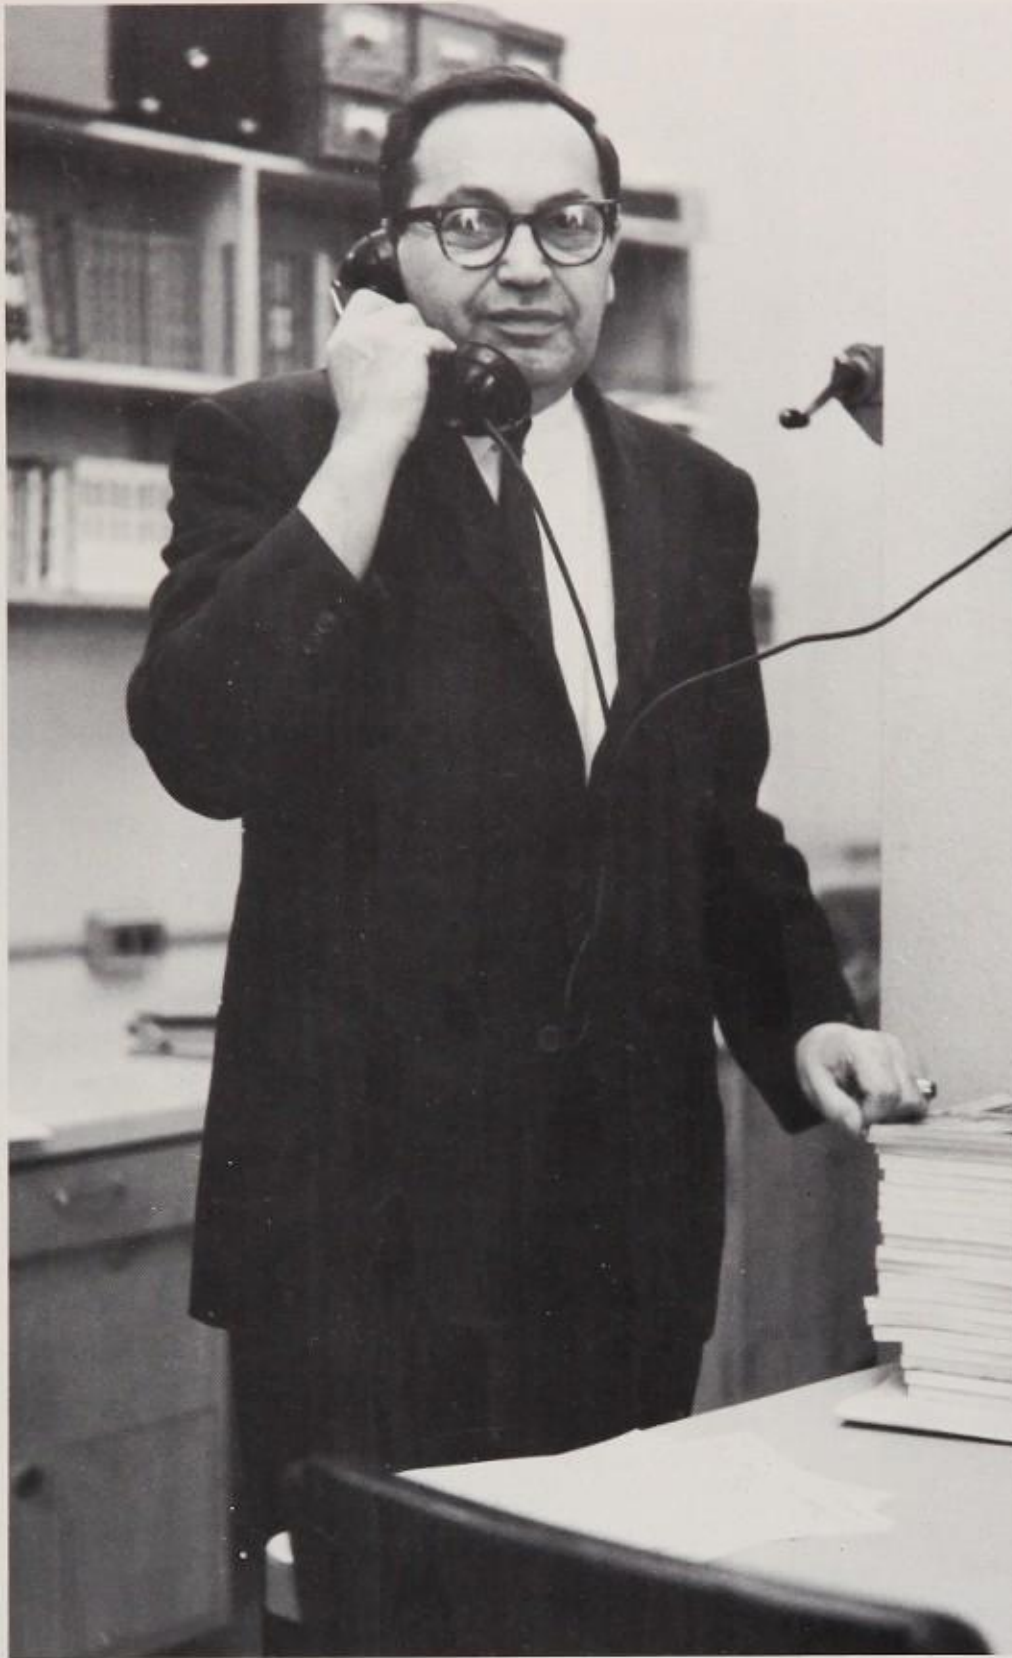

Dennie Peterson, Head

The specific aims of the Business Education Department are to offer training in business activities, skills for personal use, and guidance in the many opportunities afforded young people in the business world.

Through the fruition of these activities students obtain a satisfaction unknown in any other endeavor.

English

Kalman Rabkin, Head

The general aims of the English Department are the development of the student's ability to write and speak directly and coherently, to read with comprehension to the limit of his ability, and to evaluate objectively what he reads. English experiences on the high school level develop the skills of reading, thinking, and writing to accomplish an understanding of the English language. The English Department shows the student how to appreciate literary art form as a record of the feeling and thoughts of man.

Home Economics

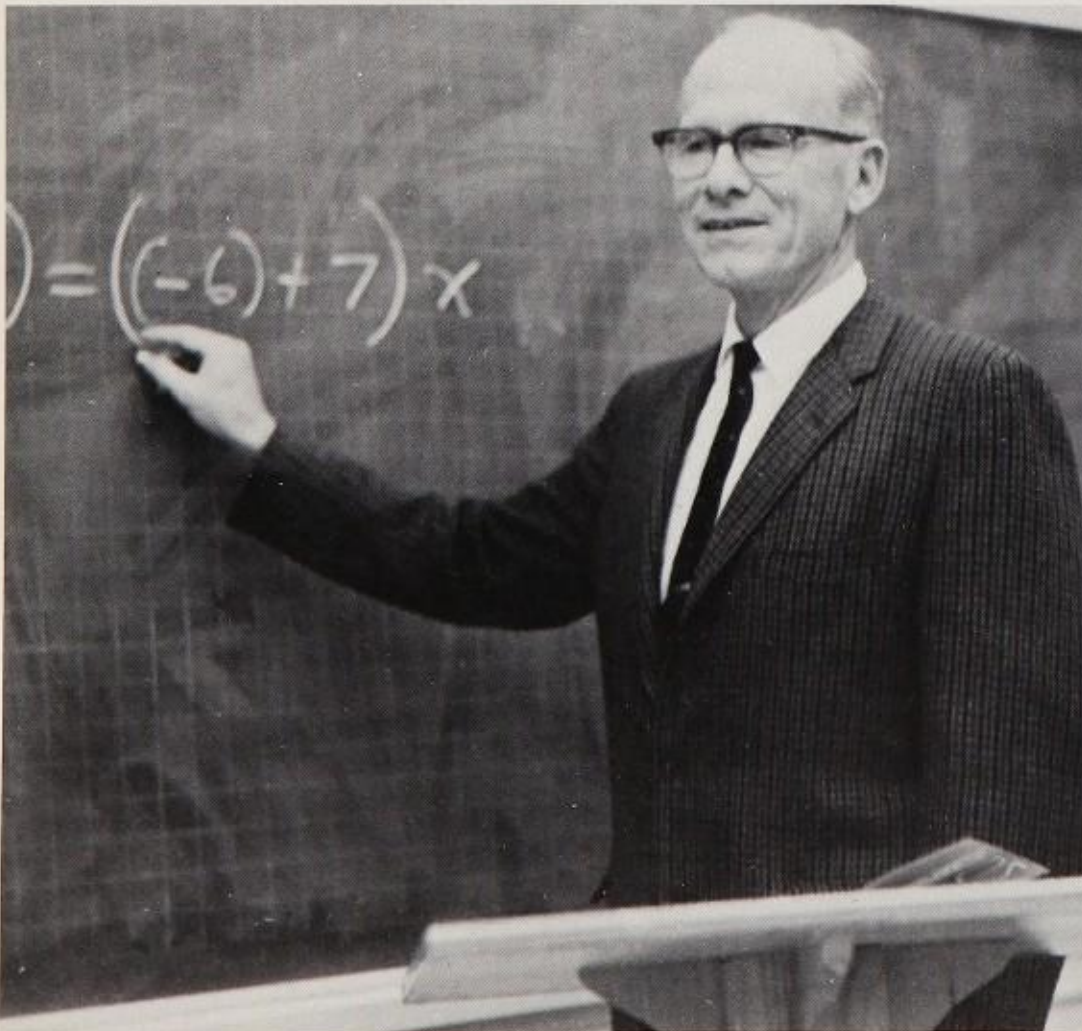

Mrs. Sibyl Line with Ann MacGibbon

Sibyl Line, Head

Home Economics prepares the student for happy personal, family, and community living. It also encourages and develops creativity and resourcefulness, provides training that enables the student to become an intelligent and responsible consumer, and offers adequate courses and experiences for those who wish to major in Home Economics. For students who wish to enrich their lives, these courses are excellent electives.

38

Mathematics

Mr. Newman Borden

Newman Borden, Head

The aims of the Math Department are to develop skill in mathematical fundamentals, to develop basic concepts, abilities, and skills, and to develop the general mathematical background needed by the educated citizens in this scientifically oriented age. It also tries to develop an understanding of the various methods of mathematical proof as well as developing such traits and attributes as verbal precision, logical organization of thought, and attitudes of inquiry.

Foreign Language

Victor Seine, Head

Due to its commitment to the university, the Foreign Language Department provides for the progressive development of the reading and writing skills and at the same time, furthers the audio-lingual skills. "Honor" sections are offered on all levels for those students designated as "academically gifted." Throughout the entire secondary school language program there is the endeavor to develop a cultural awareness of the language studied (literature, arts, music, etc.) The audio-lingual skills are re-inforced by the Language Laboratory. Motivation and practice in language is offered by the various activities sponsored by the language clubs.

Mr. Victor Seine

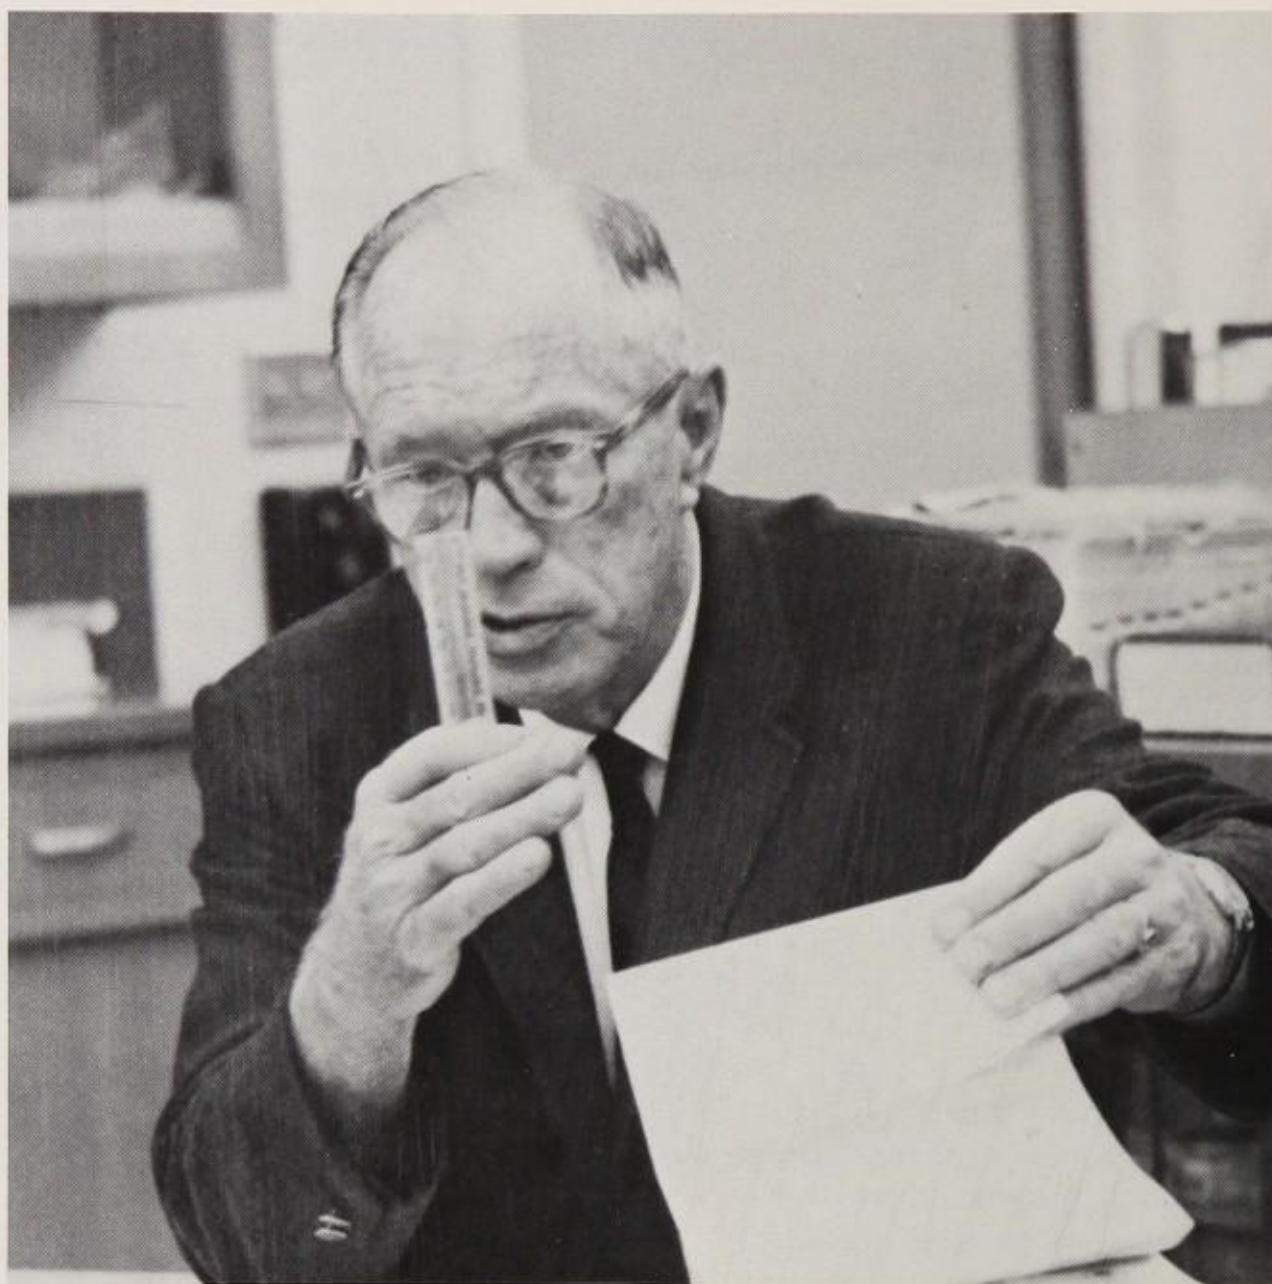

Acapulco dignitaries test our language laboratory.

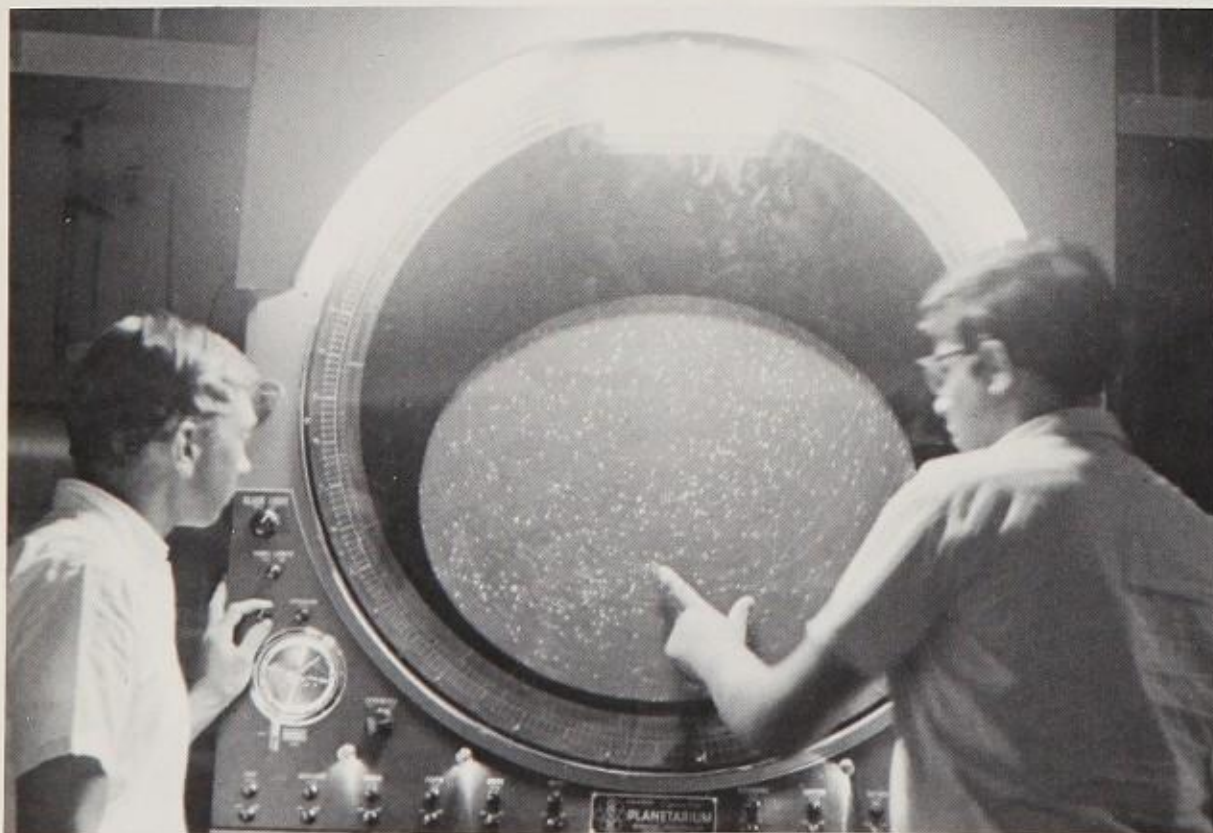

A course in Chinese has been initiated at Beverly this year on the extended day program. Instructor Mrs. Marjory Chen discusses her students with Victor Seine. They will be eligible to attend Chinese summer camp at Lake Tahoe which is sponsored by San Francisco State College. In the near future, summers in Taiwan are planned.

Science

Charles Herbst, Head

Students study the planetarium.

Courses in the Science Department are student-centered and laboratory oriented in our belief that students learn best by doing. Laboratory exercises involve reasoning, interpreting, analyzing data and synthesizing concepts from organized data. The teaching of science emphasizes the importance of self-motivation to develop competence for independent inquiry. The sequence of classes and individual offerings are such that students of varying abilities can achieve to the limits of their capacity. Our sequence of courses gives an understanding of the interrelatedness of the scientific disciplines. Science courses give an appreciation of knowledge gained through scientific discovery and its significance to human progress; and an awareness that humanity is modified by scientific research.

Girls' Physical Education

Barbara Wilson, Head

The Girls' Physical Education Department attempts not only to improve skills and deepen interests which girls already have but to develop new skills and create new interests. As well as this, paramount importance is placed on safeguarding their health in all the experiences it offers. It endeavors through daily experiences to enable each girl to grow in self-direction. Finally, it aims to give knowledge and practice in good health habits.

Pom Poms are part of P.E.

Boys' Physical Education

Harold Sieling, Head

The Boys' Physical Education Department strives to develop elementary skills in all sports, to develop knowledge of rules, develop essential health habits, knowledge, and attitudes dealing with personal hygiene, first aid, and school and community health, through the medium of specific class instruction and teacher guidance in healthful situations.

Keeping fit is essential.

retirement

Early 1967 saw the retirement of the publication center and the parking area west of the school. The small three room building which was originally designed for studies in agriculture has more recently been used for classes in graphic arts, weekly newspaper and yearbook production. Disappearing along with the building were the flowers and greenhouses of Mr. Jack Spratt and his district gardening staff. Ground was broken during the spring in preparation for the extension of Heath Avenue to Olympic Boulevard and for many exciting architectural changes.

Eric presides

fall asb president ERIC FELDMAN

Looking back on the fall semester, I am proud of how much we accomplished as a student body. The record of fall activities demonstrates how effectively a student government can operate. New innovations along with popular traditional events highlighted the semester: Dodger Day; A.S.B. dance; A.S.B. Hootenanny; student-school exchange with another high school; Political Emphasis Week; Daumier art exhibit; Armed Forces day; Op-Art Contest. These and many other activities made the fall semester worthwhile for me. To Pat and Joe, I extend my sincere appreciation.

Eric Feldman

SPRING

The gavel, a traditional symbol for leadership, is in the hands of a leader.

spring asb president ELLIOT SACKS

The past semester was filled with many exciting possibilities for participation in a variety of different events. Included in our plan for a successful semester were a Senior-Junior talent show, our most successful exchange with Dorsey High School, cultural field trips, and a sports week featuring our spring sports and prominent speakers of the athletic world. Also held were a variety of noon activities such as dances, contests, and discussion forums; once a month open student council meetings and presidential-administrative press conferences. A co-ed sports tournament and a well rounded variety of assemblies were also instrumental in an eventful semester. I am extremely grateful to the student body for having let me take such an active part in a semester which, I feel, witnessed a regrowth in school spirit.

Ditch Day, an annual event which is the only legal truancy for seniors was as successful as ever. The Sand and Sea beach club set the scene for this much-looked-forward-to holiday. The sun was hot and the surf was up as the seniors enjoyed a fun filled day of paddle tennis, sun bathing, volleyball, and body surfing. Everyone took time out to fill up on a fabulous Sand and Sea lunch. Ditch Day, as well as all the other senior activities will long be remembered.

The Senior Class of 1967 and Watchtower Staff wish to express their appreciation to cartoonist Johnny Hart and senior Fred Spinrad for helping to incorporate Grog into the Senior Story. Without the permission from Mr. Hart to recreate Grog in our book and without the excellent drawings by Fred Spinrad, we could not have starred Grog in the story as our mascot. Again we extend our most sincere thanks to both Johnny Hart and Fred.

Equally as noteworthy as its academic achievements are Beverly's extracurricular activities. The five types of clubs and organizations contribute an important part to student enrichment. A great deal is gained through the informality of the relaxed atmosphere.

The honor clubs provide recognition for those students desiring credit for outstanding service and academic rating. Members are chosen, with faculty approval, by the club members themselves.

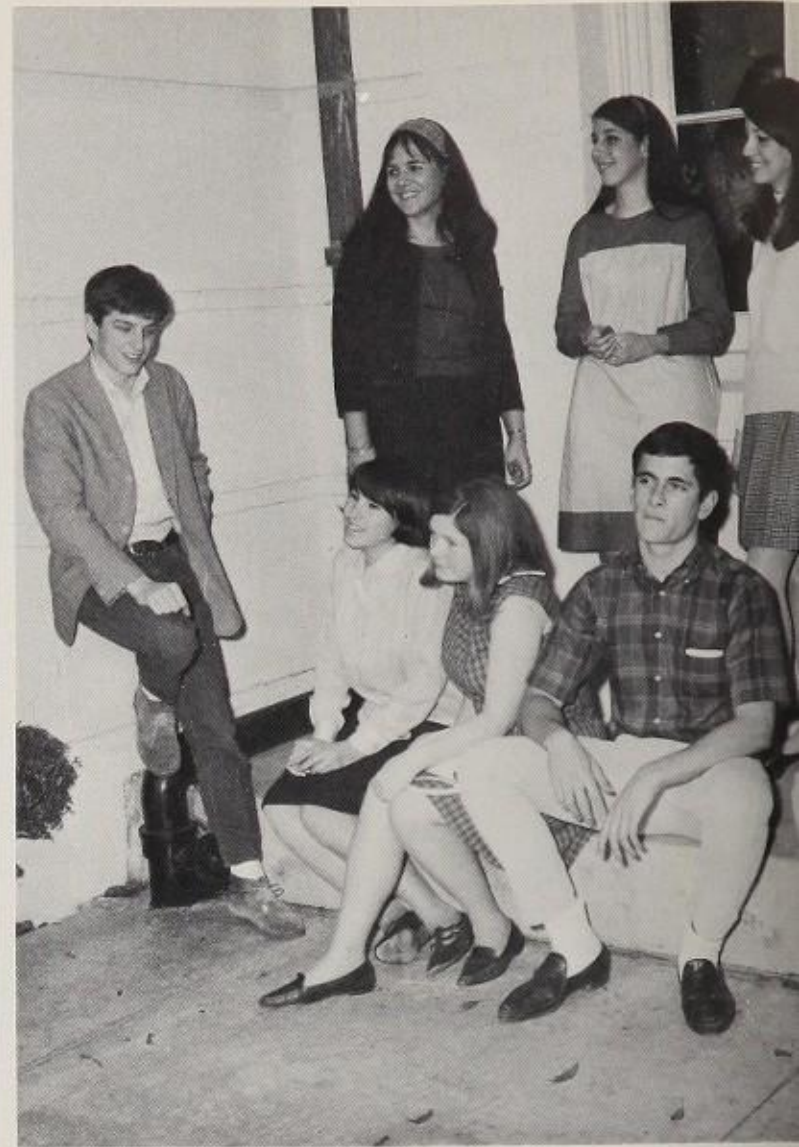

The music clubs give talented students a chance to perform on a professional level and to gain valuable musical training, both orchestral and vocal. These clubs have won many awards in local and state competition.

Language clubs give students the opportunity to learn more about the cultures and customs of the language they are studying. Presentations, lectures, and performances are given and attended by all language club members.

The professional clubs offer students a preview of their intended vocations. Local doctors, lawyers, and politicians speak at Beverly and discuss current issues which broaden students' knowledge of the various aspects of the professional fields.

The hobby clubs help students to share achievements with other interested students. Through contests, games, performances and displays, these clubs also provide valuable competition.

The publication organizations gain experience through the actual publication of the weekly newspaper, the annual yearbook, and the literary magazine. These publications help tie together the many aspects of school life. The story of the '67 yearbook appears on pages 214 and 215.

The Mad Woman of Chaillot

Skillfully directed by Mr. John Ingle, assisted by an able stage and art design crew headed by Mr. Rex Faubion, and highlighted by an excellent performance from Kres Mersky as the Madwoman, our Drama Department's fall production, Jean Giraudoux's "The Madwoman of Chaillot," was an outstanding success. The capacity audiences which viewed all three performances, saw a play that reveals how the good qualities of man, represented by the venerable Madwoman and her motley group of friends, can triumph over the impersonalization, materialism, and phoniness of the modern age.

The Fine Arts Department sponsored several assemblies in both the fall and spring semesters with such sparkling entertainment as Broadway musical medleys including songs from WEST SIDE STORY and SOUTH PACIFIC. The drama division displayed the talents of Arthur Robbins, Keith Kreger, Melinda Cummings, and many others. The student body was often entertained by our singers and musicians, and a fine series of special speakers appeared during the spring.

NASA TWO

The traditional Thanksgiving assembly was very special this year. The children of Albion Street School came to entertain the Beverly student body, warming the hearts of each student. They sang old and new songs emphasizing the goodness and joy of Thanksgiving. It is hoped that the Albion Street choir will become a traditional part of the Norman year.

NASA ONE

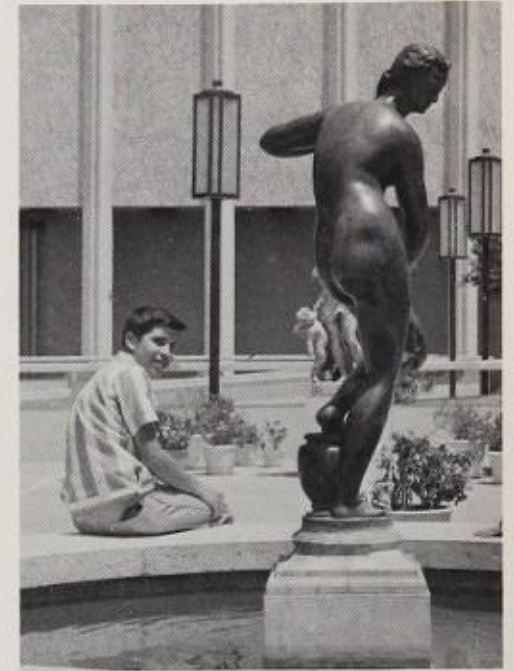

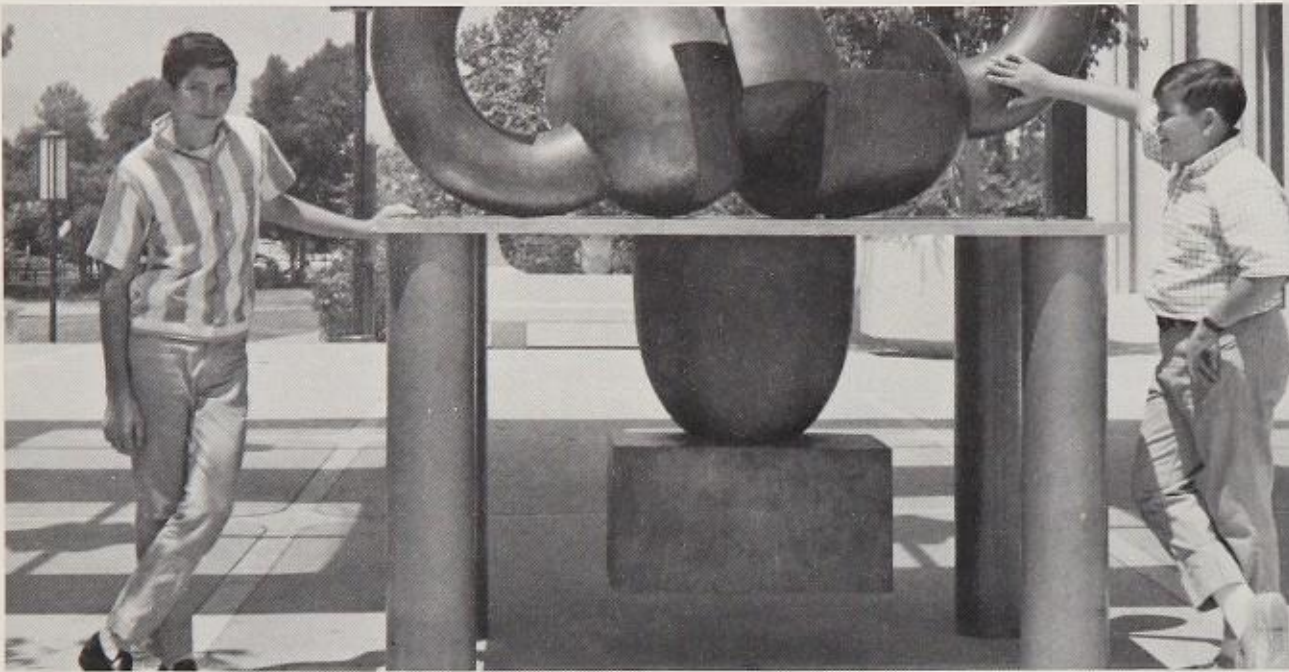

Beverly students were introduced to the complex and paradoxical subject of space travel, when James Boyle, a representative from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration spoke. He reduced the theory of jet propulsion and rocketry to experiments easily done at home, and showed a film depicting a phase of the Apollo program. It was one of the most exciting and informative assemblies of the year.

FINE ARTS ACTIVITIES

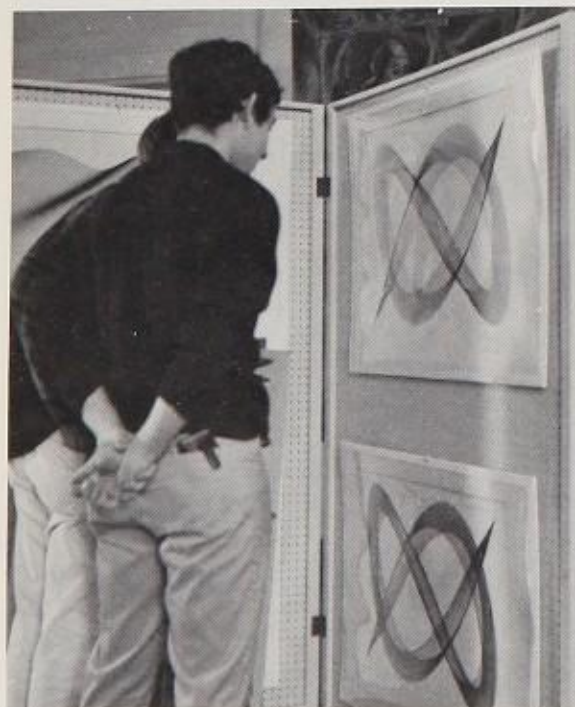

Increasing numbers of Beverly students are finding it advantageous to include fine arts classes in their well balanced courses of study. Certain courses are especially designed to enrich those who are more interested in developing broad intellectual attitudes than in pursuing an artist's career.

Fine Arts students are especially privileged to have easy access to the beautiful L.A. County Art Museum. Field trips to galleries from Pomona to the Irvine Campus are included in this varied curriculum.

The Pomona Fair and the National Scholastic Art Association offer contest opportunities which Beverly art students enter with unusual success. At left: Pomona winners, Debby Nourse, Jeff Kern, Carol Queen and Terry Pobirs. At right: Gold key Scholastic awards went to Debby Nourse, Libby Swan, Natalie Hoffman, Lois Miller, Jan Bernie, Jophé Hacker, Debby Cutler, Roma Heillig, Terry Pobirs, Sharon Stahl, Laurie Higgins. Many others could not be pictured in this limited space.

Training the entertainers of tomorrow, the Fine Arts Department conducted three outstanding participation programs this year. Under the direction of Mr. John Ingle, the Musical Comedy Workshop provided Beverly's potential actors and actresses with valuable experience in the arts of musical comedy. Putting their dramatic talents to work, students of the Fine Arts Department entertained the many Normans who attended the weekly Thursday Theatre in the auditorium at noon. Madrigals, the highly talented singing group under the direction of Mr. Robert Holmes, sang nightly during the Christmas vacation at Fidelity Bank in Beverly Hills.

presented in the spring

Everyone was delighted with the expertly staged production of Moliere's perfect satire, "The Would-Be Gentleman." This popular comedy-ballet, directed by Mr. John Ingle and staged technically by Mr. Rex Faubion, gave audiences and players alike an experience of tremendous value in enjoyment and education. The impact of its preparation was far reaching. All areas of the Fine Arts department were involved. Music, Dance, Art and Drama worked in close co-operation to achieve the commendable result. The French division of the Language Department joined in giving its students special studies. Talented photographer, Nate Silverman, created the programs and brochures.

This year the traditional event of Noctambulus was re-established in the form of an all-school Hootenanny. Organized by the commissioners of recreation and the commissioners of publicity, the event took place on Friday, December 2, in the Student Activity Center. The Hootenanny featured fine performances by folksingers, Joe and Elliot, and skits and humorous songs by the "Bald Eagles." There were several solo acts, including the sound of Angie Brown and Brook Ender. The Hootenanny was highly successful and should become a tradition at Beverly.

hello day

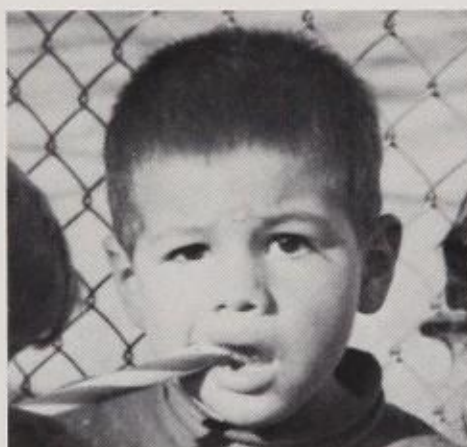

Hello Day started off the year with a successful event which saw class song competition, a Charleston contest, and a "friendliest couples" contest. The seniors proved "Supreme," as they won first place in the songfest. Friendliest couples were Shari Newman and Bill Weisberg, freshman; Bonnie Burstein and Danny Brenner, sophomores; Debbie Lapidus and Brian Hersch, juniors; Kathy Dellar and Stan Hock, seniors; Carol White and Joe Shaub, friendliest Normans.

albion street

Christmas at Albion Street was a happy one for many children this year. It was also a very rewarding one for the members of Girls' and Boys' Leagues who were fortunate enough to visit the school. Under the supervision of Albion Street Drive Chairman, Sharon Winer, Beverly students contributed an all-time high of one thousand dollars to their sister school.

tutorial project

The fall semester, 1966, saw the initiation of a successful school-sponsored tutorial project with Crescent Heights Elementary School. Approximately 70 Beverly students are involved in the program at one time, where they work for one hour on either Tuesdays or Thursdays. The purpose of the program is to give less fortunate children needed educational experience. In addition to scholastic guidance, they are aided in physical coordination and social adjustment. Sponsoring the project are Mrs. Lynne Stalmaster and Mrs. Rita Schwartz with Jane Plotkin and Rhonda Levand serving as student coordinators.

ELECTIONS

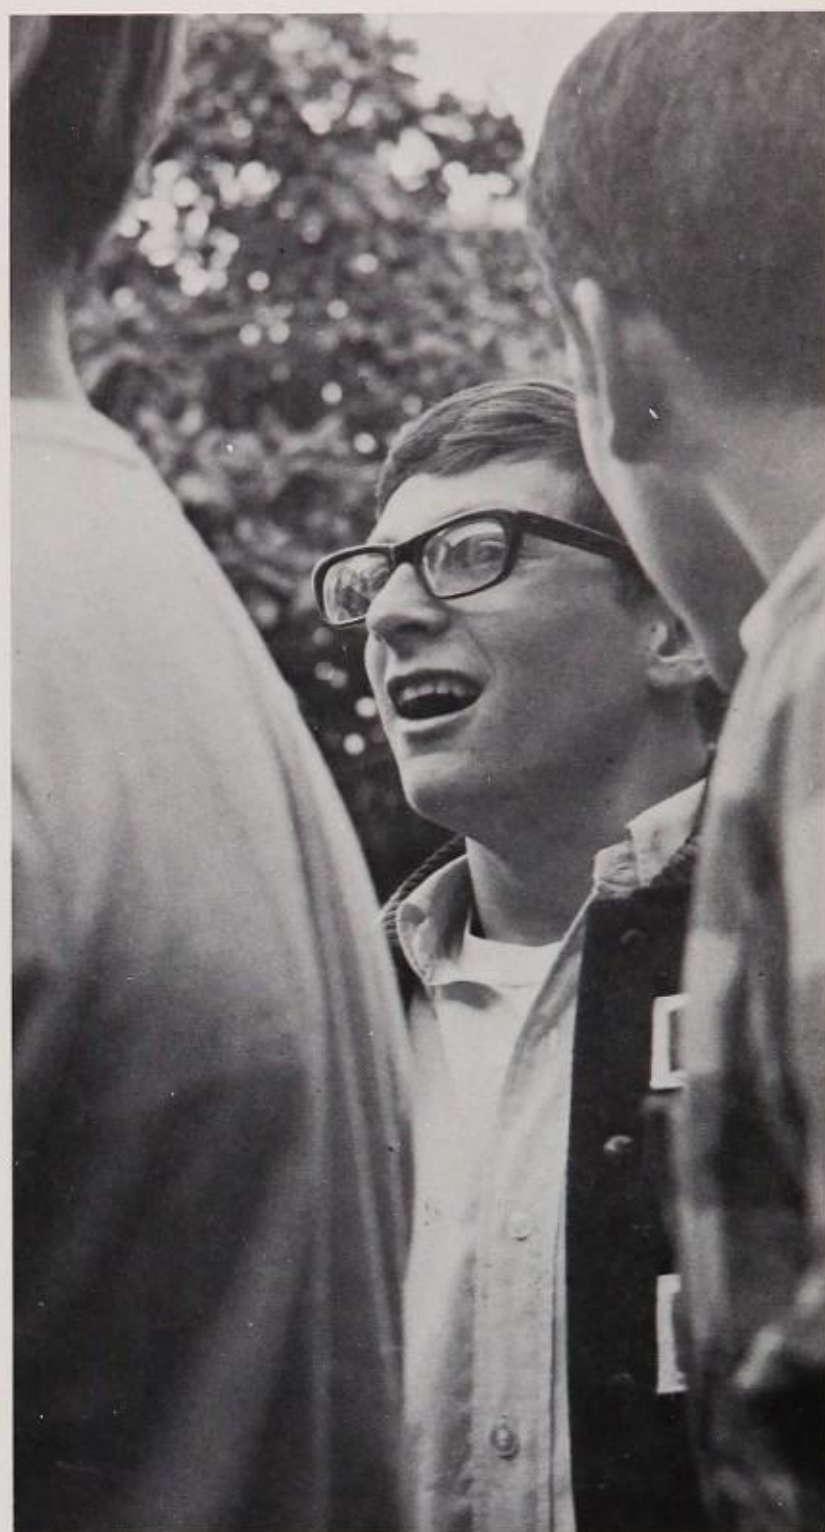

Thanks to the hard work and effort by fall A.S.B. vice president Joe Shaub, registration, voting, and election results were run smoothly and efficiently. Elections for the spring semester proved to be exciting and competitive on every level of student government. The A.S.B. presidential race was highlighted by a noon debate where candidates in the final election were given a chance to expound upon their platforms and qualifications. For the first time in Beverly history a tie occurred for Junior class vice president. Posters and campaign slogans added color and creativity to the election.

Students are urged to register.

Candidates had persuasive posters.

THE QUEEN

One of Beverly's oldest traditions, a queen and court to reign over our twenty-fifth annual basketball tournament, was maintained when the students chose Julie Schmelczer as this year's queen with four princesses to represent each class: Jane Plotkin, senior; Laura Salter, junior; Vicki Cohn, sophomore; and Rocky Ross, freshman.

The club, which meets as a 7th period gym class every day, has developed an outstanding program of sports where such activities as tennis, volleyball, basketball, hockey, golf and archery are offered to its members. G.A.A., run by a fall and spring board, also plans extracurricular events such as a dance and many playdays. Elected cheerleaders help root the G.A.A. teams on to victory.

From avant garde modern, to classical ballet, Terpsichoreans—1967, explored many exciting varieties of the dance. The highlight of the season was the formation of a dance production corps emphasizing spontaneity, creativity, and freedom of expression. The major "terpsie" project, "Command Performance," showcased these talented dancers. Mrs. Tanis Gursev sponsored the group.

tennis

Sponsor Mrs. Dixie Zovak and captain Janet Sprecher experienced many firsts with their 17 member team. This year, the tennis team, which was accustomed to practicing during the second semester, changed their schedule to the fall. To the dismay of the girls, the team season was shortened to 10 weeks. However, these changes enabled the team to join a new league and, with the skill and determination of the girls, they managed to capture a third place.

swimming

The Girls' Swim Team, active for the past two years, was designed as an outlet for girls who wanted to compete with their aquatic skills. A league was established in order to enable the swimmers to experience competition. This year Beverly girls turned in a spectacular performance. In the last day of competition, each girl took 1st, 2nd, or 3rd place in every event, maintaining Beverly's championship.

Jerry Peck blasts through the line and takes off for a long gain.

If one word can be used to describe the 1966 Varsity football season, that word is 'almost.' Only a loss in the last game of the season prevented the Normans from having their first winning season in nine long years. Still, the 4-5 mark accomplished by Coach Keelor's Chargers was the finest of recent years. By defeating both Torrance and Leuzinger in league play, the pigskinners finished in a third place tie, and would have had an undisputed third except for a disappointing 15 to 7 loss to arch-rival Culver in the season's finale.

The Beverly offense had the potential to score from any place on the field. The long distance passing attack of Jim Heumann to All-League split end Ralph Punaro was very explosive. Always a threat to break away for a long run was All-League halfback Jerry Peck who gained over 1,000 yards on the ground. Neil Borin provided steady play at his fullback post, and along with lineman Bill Moss, Ron Zolkover, Mark Hirschman, and Geoff Shlaes opened up most of the holes in enemy lines this year.

Sky League lineman of the year Steve Horowitz anchored a tenacious Norman defense. Horowitz was chosen as the best tight end and linebacker in the league. He was later named All CIF at linebacker. Opponents found it very hard to penetrate the Beverly goal line as both St. Genevieve and Filmore were shut out, and Leuzinger was held to one touchdown. Outstanding defenders were tackle Mike Wellman, end Jerry Smith and defensive backs Irv Zakheim, Dore Gilbert, and Doug Booth.

With the departure of C.I.F. power El Segundo from the Sky League ranks, the door was left open for the Varsity Water Polo team to win its first championship in school history. By finishing with a 7-1 record they tied Morningside for the Sky League crown. Only a triple overtime loss in the last game of the season prevented the Norman finmen from being sole champions. In a playoff for the berth in the C.I.F. tournament, the poloers fell to the Monarchs by a score of 11-5. Overall, the team finished with a record of 10 wins out of 17 contests, quite an accomplishment for first year coach Ron Crawford. Included in this mark was a third place finish in the Ventura Water Polo Tournament.

There were some truly great performers among the '66 champions. Goalie Mike Morgan was named to the High School All American Honorable Mention Team by Swimming World Magazine. He was also awarded Sky League Player of the Year and all C.I.F. Honorable Mention. Forward Bruce Meade scored a team high of 60 goals, most of which came in clutch situations. Meade was honored as an All Tournament choice at the Ventura Tourney and selected First Team All League. The best arm on the team belonged to First Team All Leaguer Mike Salter. His deadly outside shooting was a big asset to the Norman offense. Team captain and playmaker, Elliot Sacks was also chosen First Team All League, while defensive ace, Stu Blumkin made All League Second Team. Rounding out the starring seven were Joey Shaub, and Bill Koltun. The deep and strong bench included seniors Dave Livingston and Tim Harris along with juniors Casey Jackson and Dave Hoffman. With several returning lettermen and League Champion Bee and Cee teams, Coach Crawford could make Beverly the next Sky League Dynasty.

Beverly's Bee Water Polo squad rolled over every opponent they faced throughout the season. Finishing with a perfect 12-0 record and the Sky League Championship in their possession, the Bees proved to be a talented crew. Louis Jordan, Doug Erenberg, Mark Benjamin, and Ryan Reisman were high scoring stars while Captain Bill Gross was outstanding in the goal. Defensive standouts were Miles Corwin and Mike Stern.

The Norman Cee Team completed their league season with a 7-1 mark and a Sky League crown in its possession. Coach Dick Douglas had many reasons to be proud of his "mighty mites"; David Rosenbaum, Ricky Rosenwald, Bob Gersh, and Bruce Goldsmith all came through in the clutch throughout the season. The watchword of the squad was "hustle," and this enabled them to overcome all the obstacles on the way to the league championship.

Head Coach Roger Peterson took over the Norman cross country squad for the first time this year. He will still be looking for his first victory next season. Although the harriers were hard workers, the depth was just not there. Even the speed and endurance of star performers Mike Lennon and John Miller could not prevent an 0-7 record. Despite their dismal standing, the runners can be proud of their never-ending efforts to improve as the season progressed.

Cross country Coach Roger Peterson also master-minded the J.V. basketball team.

With Coach Chuck Reilly as mentor, the Varsity basketball team culminated their most satisfying season in years. Along with the strong outside shooting of Irv Zakheim, the ball control wizardry of Ralph Punaro, and the leaping rebounds of Alex Gamble, the small basketballers from Beverly showed that it takes more than height to produce victory. Both Zakheim and Gamble landed first-team All League berths, as Punaro finished on the second team. Barry Evans gave the Normans all the height they needed. The big senior played outstanding ball at his center position throughout the season. Rounding out the starting five was sophomore standout Jason Newman who appeared as starting forward in his first Varsity game.

Ralph Punaro drives for two points.

For twenty years the top teams in Southern California have been gathered together in pre-season tournaments. The Beverly Hills Invitational Tournament has always produced exciting play, and this year's competition was no exception. The 1967 tournament was won by the C.I.F. champion El Segundo Eagles with the Morningside Monarchs copping the second spot. However, the big story of the tournament was the exceptional play of the Beverly Hills Normans. Combining a devastating press with fine outside shooting, the Normans upset the heavily favored Torrance Tartars for the third spot. Tournament viewers witnessed the exciting play of Irv Zakheim who was selected to the All-Tournament first team. Zakheim was aided by fellow All-Tournament first teamer Alex Gamble, second team member Ralph Punaro, and the fine all-around play of Jason Newman and Barry Evans.

This year's Junior Varsity basketball team never really got the ball rolling, as both injuries and inexperience plagued the young team. A serious eye injury to starter Jon Cole stalled whatever final charge the J.V.'s were mounting. The final starting five consisted of sophomore Lon Levin, juniors Fred Mann, Mike Stern, Jerry Smith, and Jeff Golden; however, the year of valuable experience gained playing on the Junior Varsity should prove instrumental in determining victory for the next year's varsity. Coach Roger Peterson did what he could with a constant reshuffling of a lineup which never jelled. The only solace for the Junior Varsity is that next year they will have another chance to redeem themselves, and, hopefully, have a successful season.

All was not easy for Coach Roger Peterson.

Donkey basketball

"Knock the Faculty flat on their burro," read the sign on Jon Bernstein's back. Odd notation? Hardly, considering the circumstances: the students joined together against faculty and parents in a good, wholesome game of basketball. One hitch: the players had to ride donkeys; and, while the action of a basketball game is usually fast, donkeys have a peculiar tendency to stop and refuse to move. When this happened it was anybody's guess who would get to the ball first. Elliot Sacks added his clever commentary to this PTA-sponsored event. The proceeds went to charity.

Varsity Baseball

With an experienced team which contained eight out of last year's nine starters, the Norman Varsity baseball team was favored to cop the Sky League pennant. Early season wins confirmed these hopes. Coach Chris Flanagan could field an almost entirely veteran infield with Alex Gamble at first base, Jerry Peck at the second base post, and Ross Bagdasarian in the hot corner. In the outer gardens All League outfielder Irv Zakheim provided defensive gems along with timely hitting. Other fly catchers included Jerry Smith and Benet Rutenberg. Behind the plate was rugged Jim Heumann who also doubled as a pitcher. Jim handled a pitching staff which included Larry Miller, an All League hurler, and Tim Delcambre. The large responsibility of leading the squad to the crown was placed on Ralph Punaro, a first team All C.I.F. short-stop in his junior year. If he can repeat his fantastic performance of last season the Normans will be tough to beat.

This year's Varsity track team relied heavily upon the support of the lower classmen for their victory. Out of a team of 35 boys only 6 were seniors, a fact which could do nothing but help future varsity teams. Coaches Larson and Kloes fielded a squad which included Mike Barr in the sprints, Mike Lennon in the middle distances, Danny Rosson in the long distances, Bruce Massman and Elie Gindi in the high jump, and Brian Podrow in the pole vault.

The Norman tracksters got the season off to a good note with consecutive victories over both Lennox, Lawndale, and Harvard. Dore Gilbert, Mike Wellman, and Bill Hussey were successes in the shot put as was Danny Jones in the broad jump and Mark Felmus in the hurdles.

Bee and Cee track

This year's Bee and Cee track teams got off to a fantastic start with convincing wins over Lennox and Lawndale. Freshman Robert Cole sparked the Cees with fine finishes in the 100 and 180 yard dashes, the long jump, and the team relay. Also aiding the Cee cause was pole vaulter Scott Wilson. Coach Chuck Kloes worked with his Bee captain Peter Ng and produced a victorious team in the first two meets. Along with Ng were Joey Held and Frank Rose, while Dan Kupper helped out with his middle distance races.

Varsity Swimming

The Varsity swim team suffered from a lack of depth but still upheld the fine tradition of Beverly swimming. Coach Ron Crawford's crew had fine performances in most of the events but not enough to place high in Sky League standings. Outstanding efforts were produced by Elliot Sacks and Stan Schwimer in the free-style events while Bill Koltun and Joey Shaub excelled in butterfly races. Casey Jackson ranked among the top breaststrokers in the league and was backed up by Tim Harris. Backstrokers Stu Blumkin and Dave Rosenbaum were valuable point getters for the aquamen. With a powerful Bee team and many juniors returning next year the Norman finmen should again be recognized as a swimming power.

The Varsity wrestling team emerged as a Sky League power this year due mostly to the fine efforts of grappler Phil Swartz. Phil accomplished what no other wrestler in the history of Beverly High has ever done when he grabbed a first place finish in his 130 lb. weight class against 300 other wrestlers in CIF competition. This culminated four years of dedication and preparation. Helping to produce a 9th place finish out of 354 schools in CIF were Randy Kuluva, Howard Barrar, Steve Levine and Ross Snyder. It took outstanding individual efforts to attain this fine position, not only during the matches but during the long, grueling practice sessions. The Varsity wrestlers are a credit to the athletic program of Beverly.
